

FISCAL NOTE

SB 515 - HB 777

February 15, 2001

SUMMARY OF BILL: Authorizes all county registers to refuse to register any writing that is illegible or cannot be legibly recorded or reproduced. Current law only authorizes the register in counties having a population of not less than 60,250 nor more than 60,350 according to the 1970 or any subsequent federal census (Anderson County) to refuse to register a writing that is illegible or not suitable for reproduction.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

Decrease Local Govt. Revenues - Not Significant

To the extent the provisions of the bill result in fewer writings being registered, counties will experience a decrease in revenues from registration fees. Any decrease is estimated to be not significant.
